SUMMARY

An internationally renowned physician with extensive credentials in clinical immunology and integrative medicine focused on the treatment of cancers and auto-Immune diseases. Dr. Stoff is a graduate of New York Medical College with extensive post-doctoral fellowship at the Royal London Homeopathic Hospital in London, England. His practice is located at Integrative Medicine of New York and the Stoff Institute for Medical Research (501c3) where he consults with physicians and medical groups both domestically and abroad on the subjects of immune system disorders and immune reconstitution. As a result of his research, he has developed several new molecular complexes, one of which is now being patented as a true anti-biotic replacement.

SPECIAL LECTURES

“III Curso Internacional de Immunocompromiso”, Hospital General, (Mexico City, MEX) May 13-15, 1999

“Immune Reconstitution with Cytokines and Similar Agents” May 1999

“Immune Reconstitution with Targeted Human Umbilical Cord Stem Cells” May 1999

As a result of these lectures I consulted in the construction and operation of a HUCB Stem Cell clinic in Mexico City. Then I consulted in the construction and operation of a HUCB Stem Cell clinic (The Institute of Cellular Medicine in Atlanta, GA) from 2002-2004. During that time I developed a number of successful protocols for the therapeutic application of targeted HUCB stem cells.

Patents filed for producing, processing and assaying BLC, under the heading of: IMMUNODYNAMIC COMPLEXES AND METHODS FOR USING AND PREPARING SUCH COMPLEXES
